

Have dental anxiety?

We currently offer two different sedation options to make your appointment easier for you!

Option 1

Nitrous oxide sedation

Also known as laughing gas, allows for optimal relaxation before and during your appointment. The use of nitrous oxide should not interfere with your ability to drive home.

For those who wish to have longer appointments, we also offer oral sedation (a sedative) in combination with nitrous oxide. This can make the appointment seem very fast and very easy. This is good if you want the easiest and fewest appointments. If you are very busy and multiple dental visits are not an option, this a better option for you.

Option 2

Oral Sedation
